Gloria Steinem is a legendary feminist and activist who has been fighting for women's rights for over 50 years. In her new memoir, Gloria Takes a Stand, she shares her personal story of overcoming adversity and finding her voice.

Gloria was born in 1934 in Toledo, Ohio. Her father was a traveling salesman and her mother was a homemaker. Gloria's parents divorced when she was young, and she and her mother moved to Toledo to live with her grandparents.

Gloria's childhood was difficult. Her mother was often sick, and Gloria had to take care of her. She was also bullied by her classmates because she was poor and her mother was mentally ill.

Despite the challenges she faced, Gloria was a bright and ambitious student. She graduated from Smith College in 1956 and went on to work as a journalist and editor.

In 1968, Gloria co-founded Ms. magazine, the first national feminist magazine. Ms. magazine quickly became a platform for women to share their stories and advocate for their rights.

Gloria has been a vocal advocate for women's rights for over 50 years. She has spoken out against sexism, violence against women, and reproductive rights. She has also worked to empower women through education and leadership.

Gloria Takes a Stand is a powerful and inspiring memoir that tells the story of one woman's journey to overcome adversity and find her voice. Gloria's story is a reminder that we all have the power to make a difference in the world.
