In her groundbreaking book, "Using Emotional Connection Not Punishment To Raise Confident Capable Kids," author and parenting expert Dr. Laura Markham shows parents how to build a strong emotional connection with their children that will help them learn and grow without the need for punishment.

Dr. Markham's approach is based on the latest research on child development. She shows parents how to:

- Understand their children's emotional needs
- Connect with their children on a deep level
- Set limits and boundaries without resorting to punishment
- Help their children learn from their mistakes

When parents use emotional connection instead of punishment, they create a positive and supportive environment where children can thrive. Children who feel loved and connected to their parents are more likely to be confident, capable, and successful.
